

- (1) render a decision, order or judgement (including amends in favor of private criminal complainants, but excluding fines), authorizing, directing, or effecting the delivery, sale, transfer, or other disposition of, or adjudicating title to or in, property, or ordering the payment of money;
- (2) levy execution or attachment, or seize, sell or dispose of, property;
- (3) direct or authorize the distribution of any bankrupt, decedent, or other estate; or
- (4) attest, authenticate, or witness any legal instrument, declaration, or transaction.

(b) Any official act of the character described in paragraph (a) is authorized if either:

- (1) such official act or the result at which it is aimed is generally or specifically authorized by Military Government;
- (2) (I) the party or parties seeking such official act or the party or parties to such instrument, declaration, or transaction, as the case may be, have filed with such court or official, or have attached to such instrument, declaration or transaction, an affidavit averring upon oath or affirmation that, to the best of their knowledge and belief, such official act or such instrument, declaration or transaction will not transfer rights or title to, or possession of, property or money from any person whose property has been blocked by Military Government or reduce or impair the value of such property, and (II) the court or official neither knows or is charged with knowledge that such affidavit is incorrect.

(c) Any official act of the character described in paragraph (a) shall have* no legal effect unless the conditions specified in paragraph (b) (1) or (2) are met.
